TRUE SCANDINAVIAN

Storebro

For more than 50 years, Storebro has maintained and developed the Scandinavian boat building tradition. It is a legacy that we uphold with both affection and pride. At the same time as we have refined our craftsmanship over the years, we have also taken advantage of the multitude of opportunities afforded us by new technology. We are convinced that exceptional quality can only emerge through a combination of new approaches and being faithful to your ideals. Of course, we believe your boat should only be limited by your imagination and your own seafaring abilities. That's why seaworthiness, function and comfort are always our primary concerns when we build our boats, and that's what has made Storebro boats respected the world over. Two words say it all – True Scandinavian.

465 BISCAY

Storebro Royal Cruiser

The new Storebro 465 Biscay is, quite simply, a revelation. A totally new hull design with optimised underwater body, a totally new deck shape giving you the sense of being on board a yacht, and new décor in exclusive khaya mahogany all combine to produce a very beautiful new addition to the Storebro fleet. Despite the fact that the 465 Biscay is an entirely new boat, the unmistakable Storebro tradition has not been forgotten. Seaworthiness, function and comfort are absolutely first class, a fact that has made Storebro one of the most respected names in ports throughout the world.

475 Storebro Royal Cruiser COMMANDER

An exciting new concept from Storebro, and an addition to Storebro's fleet of classic elegant boats built using the most up to date techniques. The same successful hull has been utilised as on the SRC 465, providing an economical soft riding hull with minimal wake, representing the latest in hull design. The interior is designed to give that genuine nautical atmosphere which is synonymous with Storebro. Beautifully varnished interiors in Khaya mahogany and the boat also includes many practical details and solutions that are appreciated by serious and experienced yachtsmen. The Storebro Royal Cruiser 475 Commander is truly a motor yacht built to meet Storebro's motto "The yachtsman's yacht".

Storebro Grand Series

The Storebro Grand Series No.1 is the first boat in an entirely new range from Storebro. Built for those who are looking for something a little bigger than our classic Royal Cruisers but still want a boat based on the values and traditions that have made Storebro a respected name among boat enthusiasts the world over. The boat has been developed in collaboration with Argentinean boat designer G rman Frers and the Swedish design company Tillberg Design. This collaborative relationship has resulted in both a wholly new design and the introduction of many new functional solutions.

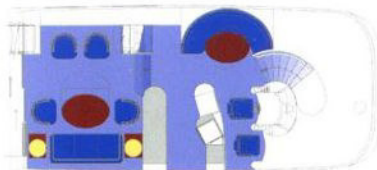

The Storebro Grand Series No.1 can also be fitted with double water jet units.

Another new feature worth noting is the entirely separate helm position, or Pilot House, where the helmsman and navigator can work undisturbed.

The Grand Series No.1 is a marriage of the cornerstone qualities of the Scandinavian boat building tradition with the innovative ideas of tomorrow. A symbiosis that, more than ever before, provides you with the conditions to enjoy life on board and your time at sea.
